About Allied Maker

Allied Maker was founded in 2012, as a garage woodworking studio by Lanette and Ryder Rizzo, on the North Shore of Long Island, NY. The manufacturer has since then grown to deliver artisan crafted, highly designed, sophisticated lighting solutions. Each fixture is crafted with natural materials such as thick gauge brass, American hardwoods, and hand-blown glass, individually finished by hand to create richly textured signature pieces that were made in-house from start to finish. Allowing you to tailor and modify each fixture to best suit your design. Fixtures that were made with love!
